Setting the Table for Change

Signature Sponsorship Opportunities

Last year, we welcomed you into our “backyard”– sharing a meal beside the pantry where dignity takes root each time a family chooses their own groceries. You saw how prevention begins in that moment, when a simple choice of fresh produce or lean protein can mean the difference between hunger and health.

This year, we’re bringing you closer to the source.

At the farm, fresh food begins its journey.

Crates of vegetables, fruit, and dairy make their way from field to pantry shelves and, finally, to a family’s table. That journey is more than logistics—it’s prevention in action. By keeping refrigerators full, we prevent empty stomachs. By covering rent and utilities when a crisis strikes, we prevent eviction notices. By offering housing and education, we prevent the slide from insecurity into homelessness.

From backyard to farm, the story is the same:
prevention works best when it starts early.

And thanks to you, neighbors can write new chapters of stability, choice, and hope.
